Scholastic's READ 180 Intensive Intervention Institute, SB 472 (5 Days)

Participants will understand the research-based rationale behind the READ 180 intensive intervention program, with a focus on hands-on practice and a thorough understanding of the program materials. Critical elements include how to provide high-quality daily instruction using Red Routines and how to implement the READ 180 instructional model; understanding the sequence and progression of each workshop and the instructional components that maximize rotations; the interconnected features of the LBook and the rBook and how to deliver explicit, form-focused instruction utilizing structured verbal engagement; guided practice using report data to effectively plan and implement needs-based, differentiated instruction and monitor progress; a deep understanding of the defining elements of explicit instruction and how to deliver READ 180's robust writing process; and hands-on exploration of READ 180 software including System 44 and the Scholastic Achievement Manager (SAM).

Audience: All educators involved in teaching or implementing Scholastic's READ 180 (CA 2008 Edition) or educators who may have recently upgraded to this edition. The audience can include teachers, administrators, and teacher leaders. Location: On site at a district location with two options: event for district-only participants or district-hosted regional event.

Scholastic's READ 180 Fast Start and Coach Implementation Workshop (3 Days)

Participants will learn, practice, refine, and plan:

- Best practices to maximize daily instruction
- Presenting and meeting lesson objectives
- Utilizing key routines and instructional strategies
- Effective progress monitoring to increase targeted instruction
- Planning and management of differentiated instruction
- Setting and reaching accelerated intervention goals

Audience: All educators, principals, and coaches involved in teaching or implementing Scholastic's READ 180 (CA 2008 Edition) or educators who may have recently upgraded to this edition. Location: On site at a district location with two options: event for district-only participants or district-hosted regional event. Format: Three-day session.

Scholastic's READ 180 Site-Based Implementation (3–14 Days)

To ensure full and complete implementation, CORE provides highly skilled program specialists to work directly in your schools with your principals, literacy coaches, department heads, and teachers to provide refined program practice, model lessons, and targeted coaching, all guided by facilitated data analysis.

Participant Materials: A Participant Resource Notebook to guide analysis and study of program materials. Prerequisite: Participating districts must provide the adopted materials at the time of the sessions. All participants must have the appropriate Teacher's Editions (LBook, rBook, and System 44) for the grade levels they are preparing to teach.
